THE RAZORBACKS

Position Breakdown

Goalkeeper: Sophomore Kelly Roliard is a returnee who gained valuable experience in the spring when she allowed just 11 goals in seven matches for a 1.57 goals against average.

"She had a really good spring," keepers coach Mario Rincon says. "She's a hard worker and just keeps getting better."

"We have a good group of athletes to work with," assistant Ben Strawbridge says. "They have a blue collar attitude and we saw enormous progress with our back four."

Freshmen Teni Butler, Laura Fitzgerald, Lauren Hall, Blake Pruitt and Taylor Smith will also look to contribute in the back.

"The spring was really good," head coach Colby Hale says. "They all have really strong attributes. We'll be looking to find the right mix and we're excited about this group."

"We created an identity and some players really emerged with their blue collar mentality," Hale says. "We're looking for this group to transition, to get forward and help attack, but also to get back and help defend. We have individual strengths, so it's about finding the right pieces that fit together."

Sophomore transfer Emily Grider also joins the group and will look to contribute.

"We're really excited because we created a lot of good chances and we were dangerous in the spring," Hale says. "We made a lot of progress and this is another hard-working group that grinds it out every day."

Freshmen additions include Ashleigh Ellenwood, Haley Hatcher and Lindsey Mayo.

New Coach Colby Hale

Colby Hale is entering his first season as the head coach of the Razorbacks.

He moved to Arkansas after spending the previous nine seasons at the University of Central Florida (UCF), helping the Knights to 130 wins (130-50-22) with six conference championships (four Conference USA, two Atlantic Sun), seven NCAA Tournament bids and eight wins in the postseason. In seven years in Conference USA, UCF was 56-11-9 with four league titles.

In three years at Oral Roberts University, Hale helped lead the Golden Eagles to 41 wins and three conference titles.

In Hale's nine seasons at UCF, including the last five as associate head coach, the Knights had 19 wins or ties against teams ranked in the top 25, ended the year ranked among the top 25 in the RPI ratings six times and ranked in the top 25 in scoring six times with 398 total goals scored for an average of 44 per season.

The highlight of Hale's time in Orlando was in 2011 when the Knights reached the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament with wins over Florida International, No. 20 Florida and No. 19 North Carolina before falling to No. 6 Wake Forest. UCF finished 13-5-6, and ranked No. 12 in the nation in the National Soccer Coaches Association Continental Tire poll and No. 20 in the RPI rankings against the 11th-toughest schedule in the nation.

Before going to UCF, Hale was an assistant for three years at Oral Roberts. He helped the Golden Eagles win three Mid-Continent Conference regular-season titles and set a school record for wins in 2000 with 14. In his three years, ORU was 41-17-5, including the nation's longest unbeaten streak of 11 games in 2001.

Senior Leaders

First-year head coach Colby Hale will look to a pair of seniors to lead the 2012 Razorbacks.

Forward Allie Chandler is a three-year starter who has career totals of 11 goals, four assists and 26 points.

Midfielder Andrea Carlson helped Oklahoma State win a Big 12 championship in 2009 before transferring to Arkansas and lettering in each of the last two years.

All-Southeastern Conference Returnees

Senior midfielder Allie Chandler and sophomore forward Jeriann Okoro return after earning All-Southeastern Conference honors a year ago.

First-year head coach Colby Hale

Allie Chandler (left) earned second-team All-SEC honors as a junior. Andrea Carlson (right) joins Chandler as the senior leaders of the club.

Chandler was a second-team All-SEC pick after leading the team with 83 shots and 29 shots on goal, was second with one game-winner, and third with two goals, four points and a .349 shots on goal percentage. She was second in the SEC with 83 shots and 4.61 shots per game. In SEC play only, she was second in the conference with 62 shots and 5.64 shots per game. She was fourth on the team overall and third among non-keepers with 1,426 minutes played. Chandler was one of five Razorbacks to start all 18 games and had a shot on goal in every game except the second game of the year at Kansas.

Okoro played in all 18 games and made 17 starts, and her 1,305 minutes ranked seventh on the club. Okoro was fourth on the team with 25 shots and seven shots on goal for a .280 shots on goal percentage. She was also tied for fourth with one goal, tied for third with an assist and fourth with three points.

Five Of Top Six Scorers Returning

Kailey Anders, who led the team with four goals and 10 points last year, is gone, but five of the top six scorers from 2011 are back.

Sophomore Beth Stratton was second on the team with three goals and six points. Senior Allie Chandler was third with two goals and four points. Sophomore Jeriann Okoro was tied for fourth with one goal, tied for third with one assist and was fourth with three points. Sophomore Sam Wolf had one goal and sophomore Tyler Allen had two assists as each tied for fifth on the team with two points.

Arkansas ranked No. 32 in the nation in attendance average last year with three crowds of 1,000 or better.

Returning Starters

All-SEC honorees Allie Chandler and Jeriann Okoro return at midfielder and forward, respectively, but five other starters are also back from last year.

Other returning starters include Beth Stratton at forward, Tyler Allen and Sam Wolf at midfielder, and Melanie Foncham and Kaylyn Cooper at defender.

Good Crowds

Arkansas ranked No. 32 in the nation in national attendance average in 2011.

The Razorbacks averaged 904 fans per game with highs of 1,268 against LSU, 1,098 against Florida, 1,073 against Oklahoma State and 912 against Ole Miss.

Chandler Records Watch

Senior Allie Chandler has a chance to move up or into a couple of school career records lists.

She enters 2012 with 11 career goals scored. With six goals this year, she would tie for ninth on the all-time chart with 17 (Honey Marsh and Lindsay Patterson). She also has 81 shots on goal, just 16 away from matching Mary Howard for the 10th-most in school history (97).

Chandler is already tied for eighth with four career game-winning goals. She is just one away from tying for sixth and two away from tying for fifth.

Spring Recap

First-year head coach Colby Hale got a good look at his squad during a competitive spring exhibition season.

Arkansas recorded a 2-0 shutout win at Tulsa, got a 3-0 win in the annual Alumni Game against former Razorbacks in Fayetteville and battled to a 1-1 tie at Saint Louis in a game suspended at the half due to inclement weather.

He moved to Arkansas after spending the previous nine seasons at the University of Central Florida (UCF), helping the Knights to 130 wins (130-50-22) with six conference championships (four Conference USA, two Atlantic Sun), seven NCAA Tournament bids and eight wins in the postseason. In seven years in Conference USA, UCF was 56-11-9 with four league titles.

In three years at Oral Roberts University, Hale helped lead the Golden Eagles to 38 wins and two conference titles. Academically, all 12 teams he's worked with as a coach have recorded team grade point averages of 3.0 or better.

In Hale's nine seasons at UCF, including the last five as associate head coach, the Knights had 19 wins or ties against teams ranked in the top 25, ended the year ranked among the top 25 in the RPI ratings six times and ranked in the top 25 in scoring Overall, Strawbridge compiled a 61-42-9 (.576) record in his six seasons at FSC, which included a 26-20-2 mark in the Sunshine State Conference, two appearances in the SSC championship game and three trips to the NCAA Tournament (2008-10). Both the SSC championship game and NCAA playoff appearances were the first in team history. Other firsts for the Moccasins were their first national ranking (2008), first win over a ranked opponent (2009), first All-American (2007) and first Academic All-American (2008). Strawbridge also earned a "first" for himself when he was voted the SSC Coach of the Year in 2007.

From 2007-10, Florida Southern was 48-24-8 for a .650 winning percentage overall and 22-9-1 for a .703 winning percentage in SSC regular-season play.

In Strawbridge's six seasons, Florida Southern faced 27 nationally ranked opponents, including five in 2011 and in 2010. In 2009 and 2010, the Mocs upset top 10 teams on the road, earning a 2-1 overtime win at No. 9 Franklin Pierce (NH) in 2009 and a 3-2 overtime win at No. 2 West Florida in 2010. They also tied No. 2 Columbus State in 2010.

Strawbridge and the Moccasins were at their best in 2010 against the best teams on the schedule. En route to a 10-5-4 overall record, the Mocs defeated four teams which won conference regular-season or tournament championships (West Florida, Abilene Christian, Nova Southeastern and Tampa), and tied another (Columbus State). They also played national semifinalist Florida Tech to a tie twice, including once in the NCAA South Region Tournament where the Panthers needed penalty kicks to advance past Florida Southern. The Mocs played seven of the top 16 scoring offenses in the nation in 2010, beating four of them and tying two others.

In 2010, Florida Southern earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the third year in a row. 2010 also saw Florida Southern achieve its highest national ranking in program history when the Moccasins moved up to No. 12 in the NSCAA poll after defeating West Florida. They spent the next six weeks ranked in the top 20 and finished the regular season at No. 25. In the NCAA regional rankings, the Moccasins reached No. 1 for the first time ever on Oct. 27, 2010.

Prior to his arrival at Florida Southern, Strawbridge was the assistant women's soccer coach at Division I Liberty University from 2002-05 under James Price. In his final season with the Flames, he helped Liberty win the 2005 Big South Conference championship and earn a berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Flames were 12-7-2 overall and 5-3 in the Big South, giving them a winning conference record all four years Strawbridge was an assistant, including 2002 when they were undefeated in league play.

Strawbridge also played at Liberty, where he started all 67 games from 1998-2001 as a defender. During that time, he established himself as one of the best players to ever wear a Flames uniform. He was two-time All-South Atlantic Region and was the first player in team history to earn first-team All-Big South honors three straight years. His play in 1999 helped Liberty goalkeeper Dean Short set a Big South Conference record with 10 shutouts.

Strawbridge earned his bachelor's degree in communication from Liberty in 2002 and his master's in business administration in 2006. He and his wife, Kristy, have two daughters, Aslyn and Maryn, and a son, Hackett.

Mario Rincon is in his first season as an assistant coach after joining the staff on Jan. 23, 2012.

Rincon was an assistant at Army in 2011 after spending the three previous seasons as an assistant at Florida Gulf Coast University. Rincon is the recruiting coordinator, coaches the goalkeepers and handles day-to-day organizational details.

Rincon has 15 years of coaching experience, including helping start the program at FGCU with a 32-16-6 mark in his three seasons (2008-10). Prior to his stint at FGCU, Rincon was on the staffs at Wright State, Baylor, Duke, Miami and Lynn University. During his two-year stay at Wright State (2006-07), Rincon helped the Raiders to a 23-8-5 mark.

Three players earned All-Big 12 conference honors, eight were named to the academic unit along with goalkeeper Ashley Holder being invited to the U-21 Women's National Team training camp.

An excellent recruiter, he helped bring in a freshman class that ranked No. 8 by Soccer Buzz during his one-year stay at Duke. Five players were all-conference selections that fall with another named to the SCAA All-Southeast Region first team. In addition, he was instrumental in the development of an Atlantic Coast Conference first-team goalkeeper who was part of the Icelandic National Team at the Pre-World Cup Qualifier.

After joining the Miami staff in the fall of 2000, Rincon served as the interim coach from February-July 2001. He played a key role in helping the school earn its first national ranking along with receiving a bid to the 2001 NCAA Tournament. He also assisted in the development of the school's first player to earn a spot on the Mexican National Team.

Rincon broke into the collegiate coaching ranks at Lynn University and was instrumental in helping the Fighting Knights to three NCAA Division II Final Four finishes, including winning the national title (19-1-0) in 1998 and runner-up honors in 1996 (20-1-0) along with reaching the semifinals in 1997 (19-2-0).

Academic Excellence

The University of Arkansas Athletic Department selects its honor roll each semester based on semester grades. Since the inception of the Athletic Department's honor roll in the fall of 1999, and through spring 2012, the Razorback soccer team had 264 student-athletes on either the Academic Champions (4.0 GPA), Athletic Director's (3.5-3.99) or Honor Roll (3.0-3.49) lists, including 55 selections in 2011-12. Fifty individual soccer student-athletes have achieved a perfect 4.0 semester average at least once, and they are listed below.

Arkansas Soccer History

The University of Arkansas has been a pioneer for women's sports throughout the past 30-plus years, and the Razorback soccer team is a shining example. Among the first varsity women's soccer teams in the country, Arkansas began varsity play in 1986, and has since earned the respect of the nation as one of the toughest places to play. Over the course of the past 20 years, there have been many significant firsts: the program's first victory on Sept. 21, 1986, at Texas A&M University; the Southeastern Conference's first Player of the Year; the SEC's first televised game and the construction of Razorback Field. But all pale in comparison to the personalities of the more than 200 women who have shaped Arkansas women's soccer into what it is today.

During their inaugural season in the fall of 1986, the Razorbacks played a 12-game schedule under its first head coach, Curtis Sergeant, against regional opponents from Texas and Missouri.

Improving by leaps and bounds, the team posted a 10-8 record for its first winning season in just its second year while posting six shutouts. The 1987 schedule also allowed the Razorbacks to not only play regional opponents, but also to travel as the team took its first significant road trip to the Sunshine State for a pair of matches in Boca Raton, Fla.

After two seasons of varsity play, the Razorbacks turned the program over to Kathy Ludwig prior to the 1988 season. An All-American during her playing days, Ludwig brought experience at the Division I level to Arkansas' program. Working with a large group of young players, Ludwig's first team struggled early, but surged during the second half of the 1988 season.

One of the things for which Ludwig will long be remembered was the recruitment of Ruthie Miller from Broken Arrow, Okla., and Molly Myers from Colorado Springs, Colo. The pair were instrumental in Arkansas' five-year run of non-losing seasons, beginning in 1989, and remains a major part of Arkansas' career record book.

Miller took over the career lead in scoring during her senior season and held the mark until 2003 while Myers was the first of a string of outstanding goalkeepers at Arkansas. She still holds the school records for career saves.

The first televised SEC soccer match occurred at then-named Lady'Back Field in 1995 and blossomed into a yearly package for SEC women's soccer.

Prior to the 1990 season, Marcia McDermott became the Razorbacks' third head coach, and her three-year stint is one of the most productive in Arkansas history. During her time in Fayetteville, the Razorbacks won 26 matches and set the benchmark for wins in a season with 11 during the 1991 campaign.

During McDermott's tenure, Arkansas made another commitment to the soccer program when construction began on then-named Lady'Back Field on the corner of California and Sixth Street. At the time of its construction, it was the first collegiate soccer field used solely for the purpose of a women's team, and to this day, remains one of only a handful of such fields. The field was renamed as Razorback Field prior to the beginning of the 2008 season to reflect the merger of the formerly independent men's and women's athletic departments.

The off-season between the 1992 and 1993 seasons was a busy one for the Razorbacks. Former North Carolina standout Janet Rayfield was hired as the fourth coach of the soccer program, and the university announced it was joining the Southeastern Conference. Both occurrences made waves throughout the nation, and Arkansas did not disappoint. The Razorbacks went 10-10 in Rayfield's first season, and then crushed Auburn on the way to the SEC Tournament championship game, where they lost in overtime to Vanderbilt.

The 1993 campaign was significant in what Arkansas was able to do against the SEC, but also in that it saw the construction of a field house at Razorback Field. The '93 club also produced the most prolific scoring output in Arkansas soccer history. Led by the tandem of Honey

Marsh and Amy Van Laecke, Arkansas tallied 57 goals over its 20-game schedule while conceding just 36. Marsh's play throughout the season earned her the SEC's first Player of the Year award and first tournament MVP honor.

The 1994 season saw the Razorbacks play their first regular-season conference matches, then host the second SEC Tournament. Once again, Arkansas was strong in the postseason, advancing to the tournament semifinals before falling a second time to the Vanderbilt Commodores.

The SEC had a boom in 1995 as six teams joined the league, and Arkansas remained in the thick of the action. The Razorbacks earned their first SEC win in a 2-1 overtime victory over Mississippi State on Sept. 8, 1995, and saw goalkeeper Holly Smith emerge as the next standout player on Arkansas' roster. As the SEC continued to push women's sports into the limelight, Arkansas did its part by hosting the first televised match of SEC women's soccer at Razorback Field.

Arkansas' 1996 season was one of the best seasons in team history as it matched the program mark for wins in a season with 11 en route to claiming the SEC Western Division crown. Beginning the year 1-3-0, Arkansas rallied to win eight of its next 10 matches to put itself at the top of the standings. At the SEC Tournament, Arkansas defeated Vanderbilt for the first time since joining the conference, then knocked off Georgia, 3-1, before falling to Florida in double overtime of the championship game, 3-2.

The firsts continued for the soccer program in 1997 when Arkansas added lights to Razorback Field, allowing the team to host its first night match on its home pitch on Aug. 30, 1997.

Following the resignation of Rayfield after the 1998 season, Arkansas hired Alan Kirkup to take over the reins of the program. One of the winningest women's collegiate soccer coaches of all time, Kirkup brought a keen knowledge of the game to Arkansas which showed immediately during his first season. One of Kirkup's first duties included the recruitment of Pam Pesnell, the first Fayetteville, Ark., native to play for the Razorback soccer team, and then he focused on the team, which ended the 1999 season in a tie for first in the SEC West.

Getting the most from his players, Kirkup took a group of unknowns and turned them into a force, especially at tournament time. At his first SEC Tournament, Kirkup started six freshmen against defending national champion Florida and held a 2-0 lead on the Gators after 10 minutes of play.

Kirkup's tutelage also led to the fall of nearly every Arkansas offensive record. Midfielder Holly Collins broke the Razorbacks' assist record in 2000 when she notched her 18th career helper and finished her career with 26 assists. Another Kirkup recruit, Julie Williford, broke Miller's marks for career goals and points, and became the first Razorback to eclipse the 100-point mark during a career.

In 2001, Razorback Field added stadium seating for 1,500 spectators, as well as press box and radio facilities. A facility-record 1,709 fans watched Arkansas play South Carolina on Oct. 12, 2001. Nine games at Razorback Field have seen more than 1,000 fans.

The long line of strong goalkeeping continued for Arkansas with the play of Carrie Dillsaver. During her senior season, she became the first Razorback keeper to post a sub-1.00 goals against average (0.91) and finished her time in Cardinal and White as the holder of five career marks.

The Gordon Henderson era of Razorback soccer began in the spring of 2004 and continued with a return to grass roots. Henderson focused on the team and community development, which translated to record crowds during his tenure. Seven of the top 13 attendance figures came during his five-year stay in Fayetteville.

Arkansas continued to build its reputation as a leader on the field and in the classroom as Williford became Arkansas' first Academic All-American in 2003. The firsts kept coming when Kim Schleif became the first Razorback soccer student-athlete named to the SEC All-Freshman team in 2006. Following the 2007 season, Allison Harris earned the Razorbacks' first SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year honor. That same year, Harris also earned Academic All-American accolades.

Following the 2008 season, in which Arkansas equaled the program mark of four conference victories and 11 overall wins, Erin Aubry was named the seventh head coach in Razorback history on Dec. 23, 2008.

In 2009, Aubry became the first first-year coach in program history to post a winning record (8-7-4) as the Razorbacks had consecutive winning seasons for the first time ever (11-8-0 in 2008). Arkansas set school records with 10 shutouts and four SEC shutouts. Keeper Britni Williams became the all-time leader with 22 shutouts. Schleif was second-team All-SEC and Allie Chandler made the freshman team.

The 2010 squad went 5-11-3, but improved its scoring in SEC games from five goals in 2009 to 17. Arkansas also recorded a 0-0 double-overtime tie at No. 17 Georgia. Williams ended her career as the all-time leader with 27 shutouts and 30 wins. Senior Kelsey Allison was second-team All-SEC and Melanie Foncham was named to the freshman team. Senior Beth McVean and junior Kailey Anders earned CoSIDA Capital One Academic All-District VI second-team honors. 2010 was also the first year of RazorVision Academy, a student broadcast program which produced television-quality broadcasts of home soccer games streamed online at ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

In 2011, Arkansas started 2-0 in the SEC, and Chandler earned second-team All-SEC honors while Jeriann Okoro was named to the all-freshman unit. On Dec. 21, 2011, Colby Hale was named the eighth head coach in program history.

With the installation of lights at its field, Arkansas played its first night game in 1997.

Razorback Field

The University of Arkansas has always been proactive when it comes to women's intercollegiate athletics, and the lifespan of Razorback Field is a tribute to that stance. When it was constructed in 1992, the then-Lady'Back Field was the first collegiate soccer field in the country dedicated solely for the use of a women's team. To this day, it remains one of a handful of such fields.

With improvements planned following its construction, a field house was built to house locker rooms for both participating teams, and lights were erected to allow the Razorbacks to practice and play at any time. The facility evolved and was improved with an expansion and renovation prior to the 2011 season.

The expansion added more than 3,900 square feet to the existing 3,100-square foot structure.

Additions include an expanded and re-modeled training room with a rehab area, a new locker room for the Razorbacks, a team lounge connected to a team meeting area, two private meeting rooms and a storage area.

The existing building included home and visiting locker rooms, a training room, coaches' offices, showers, a concession stand and public restrooms. The visiting locker room, concession stand and public restrooms remain.

The architecture design was a joint project between Arkansas' Facilities Management Department and Polk, Stanley, Wilcox of Little Rock. The general contractor for the project was Milestone Construction Company of Springdale.

Arguably the best pitch in the Southeastern Conference, for facilities and playing surface, the field was the host of the 1994 SEC Tournament and the site of the first women's soccer match televised by the SEC.

Completed for the 1999 season were several improvements, including wrought-iron fencing around the field, a ticket booth and permanent professional-style players' benches.

Following the 1999 soccer campaign, construction of a new stadium to accommodate the growing fan base at Razorback Field began. The spring of 2001 saw the stadium expand to a 1,500-seat capacity, including chair-back seating for season-ticket holders as well as fully functional press facilities, television and radio booths, and a VIP hospitality area.

Southeastern Conference

The Southeastern Conference has continued its rise as one of the top conferences in women's soccer.

The last three years of women's soccer have reaffirmed the SEC's prominence in the country with 17 total selections to the NCAA Tournament. Six teams from the SEC were invited to the NCAA Tournament in 2009, three in 2010 and eight in 2011.

Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, Ole Miss and South Carolina made the 64-team field in 2009. Auburn, Florida and South Carolina were in the field in 2010. In 2011, Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU, South Carolina and Tennessee earned NCAA bids. The six teams combined for a record of 5-5-1 in 2009 with the Gamecocks advancing to the third round. The 2010 teams went a combined 2-3 with Florida and South Carolina reaching the second round. In 2011, the SEC won four games with Auburn, Florida, Georgia and USC reaching the second round.

The SEC has a 55-68-10 (.451) NCAA Tournament record in 73 appearances.

SEC women's soccer will begin its 20th season in 2012 deeply rooted in the national scene of collegiate soccer. Since the SEC initiated women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1993, the sport's popularity has grown through the country and especially in the Southeast. A defining point in the SEC's women's soccer success came in 1995 when FOX Sports South broadcast the SEC Tournament Championship match between Alabama and Kentucky on a tape-delayed basis, signifying the first appearance of an SEC championship on television. Southeastern Conference women's soccer continued to grow over the next couple of years as the conference made a name for itself nationally. In 1998, the SEC had its breakout season with Florida winning the conference's first NCAA title in women's soccer in just the program's fourth year of existence. The league led the nation with six NCAA Tournament teams that year, an accomplishment which firmly inserted the SEC as one of the major conferences in women's soccer.

The SEC also made bigger strides in its television coverage with three regular-season matches and the SEC Tournament championship match shown live on the SEC-TV package. In 2003, the SEC Soccer Tournament moved to a neutral site in Orange Beach, Ala., signifying the growth of the sports' popularity. In 2006, SEC-TV's women's soccer coverage was increased to four regular-season matches, in addition to the SEC Tournament championship match.

The SEC began a new television agreement with ESPN in 2009. The agreement has seen television coverage increase 300 percent from 2008. ESPNU, which is available in more than 73 million households, FOX, CSS and COX combine to push the SEC's television appearances to more than 15 matches per year.

That incremental growth, combined with increasing exposure on the national and regional scene, has SEC women's soccer looking to blossom to new heights this year and beyond.

Founded in 1871, The University of Arkansas is the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas System. Located in Fayetteville in Arkansas' northwest corner, the U of A is the state's foremost partner and resource for education and economic development.

The U of A offers 213 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral, professional and specialist degree programs. In keeping with its status as Arkansas' land-grant university, the U of A has a 140-year-old mandate to educate, to conduct basic and applied research, and to extend knowledge and resources to the people of Arkansas and beyond through public engagement and service. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching recently classified the U of A as a national research university with a very high level of research activity, based on the number of doctoral degrees awarded, research grants received, and other factors. The U of A is the only Arkansas institution with such a ranking and is among just 108 institutions in the United States (out of 4,633) to have received that classification.

The U of A has enormous influence over Arkansans' social, cultural, and recreational life, especially the widespread passion for the university's athletics teams, the Arkansas Razorbacks. The U of A's location in northwest Arkansas is viewed as one of the university's strongest attributes. Fayetteville is widely recognized as one of the best college communities in the U.S. The city's Dickson Street district abuts the U of A campus and features scores of restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues. Northwest Arkansas is a vibrant economic region with a national reputation for its high quality of life.

Three of the U.S.'s largest corporations have their world headquarters in the region: Tyson Foods, J.B. Hunt Transportation, and the world's largest retailer, Walmart, Inc. Because of their presence, many other corporations have established primary or secondary headquarters in Northwest Arkansas. Their close proximity to the U of A campus, along with their executives' and employees' active involvement in university life, offers students and faculty exceptional opportunities for research partnerships, internships, and post-graduation employment.

The U of A boasts one of the most unique features and traditions found on any college or university campus: Senior Walk, a nearly three-mile stretch of concrete sidewalks crisscrossing campus into which the names of every U of A graduate is engraved. More than 140,000 names currently appear, grouped alphabetically by year of graduation. Senior Walk epitomizes the university's emphasis on "putting students first," a philosophy captured in its tag line, "the YOU of A."

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings on Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1875, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as had happened to its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2005. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

The U of A features distinctive architecture, including its signature building, Old Main, finished in 1875. As the original administrative facility, the iconic building now houses the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences. The college is named in honor of former U of A President (and, later, U.S. Senator) J. William Fulbright, who helped create the prestigious international scholarship and fellowship programs that bear his name. The U of A's distinctive Fulbright Peace Fountain, designed by architect Fay Jones, recognizes its namesake's role in promoting peaceful resolution of world conflicts.

Academically, the U of A is organized into 10 schools and colleges: the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences; the College of Education and Health Professions; the College of Engineering; the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences; and the Sam M. Walton College of Business. The university also features the Fay Jones School of Architecture, the Graduate School and International Education, the Honors College, the School of Law and the Global Campus, which provides academic outreach and programs to more than 15,000 learners a year.

The U of A's total annual operating budget for FY2012 is $528 million. Tuition and fee revenues make up the largest source of revenues, followed by an annual state appropriation. Almost 77 percent of all full-time undergraduate students receive some form of financial aid. U of A undergraduate tuition rates were ranked 38th lowest in the nation among land-grant universities, in keeping with the university's emphasis on keeping itself accessible and affordable.

In August 2011, the U of A enrolled a record 23,119 students. The student body consisted of students from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. More than 300 student organizations also exist on campus. There are plenty of things to do on- and off-campus. The HPER Center, the university's state-of-the-art recreational facility, offers a great place to climb, swim, run, lift weights, do aerobics and yoga, or play basketball. Cultural and recreational options include attending lectures, readings, and theatrical performances, shopping opportunities, and listening to live music on nearby Dickson Street.

In 2009, University Chancellor G. David Gearhart presented a long-range strategic plan that was formally endorsed by the elected leaders of the faculty, staff, and student body. The plan emphasizes a commitment to "students first," and outlines goals and strategies to ensure that all students receive the resources and support they need to achieve their academic goals. The plan also emphasizes the U of A's commitment to transparency and accountability to the people of Arkansas in its operation.

More information about the U of A may be found at www.uark.edu.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over three miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

CHANCELLOR

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation and refurbishment plan, as well as a campus-wide energy savings plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the "All Steinway Campus."

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $29.4 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by nearly 4,000 students in the past three years to almost 23,000 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of more than 35 years, Jane, have two children and two grandchildren.

DR. SHARON HUNT

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

Chancellor G. David Gearhart appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative (FAR) for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty since 1990, and she served as the department head of the recently renamed Department of Health, Human Performance and Recreation from July 1, 1990 until June 30, 2011 except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as the interim dean of the College of Education and Health Professions. On June 30, 2011 Dr. Hunt stepped down as department head and returned to the faculty at the rank of Professor giving her more time to devote to the FAR position.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a Doctor of Education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of undergraduate courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

The FAR's responsibilities lie in three broad areas: academic integrity within the athletics program, student-athlete well-being, and institutional control of the athletics program. Dr. Hunt is involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and chairs the Academic Credential Review Committee and Athletic's Academic Integrity Committee, and serves as an ex-officio member of the Faculty Athletics Committee. In addition, she travels to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers' Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

Dr. Hunt has been married to David Hunt since 1973, and they have an adult son and daughter as well as a grandson.

JEFF LONG

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS & DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Entering his fifth full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition and gained national attention for his leadership while revitalizing a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes.

Long leads a comprehensive athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long is helping to chart the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas while integrating Razorback Athletics into the campus community. In each of the past three years, Razorback Athletics has made a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission. The department's total support of university and student programs and initiatives has grown to more than $5 million annually.

Long's leadership and unwavering commitment to the student-athletes and maintaining integrity within intercollegiate athletics has not gone unnoticed. In 2011-12, Long was named a finalist for the SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily Athletic Director of the Year. In the spring of 2012, the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation and longtime chairman Fred W. Smith made a gift of more than $1.25 million to the program in recognition of Long's leadership of Razorback Athletics.

In Long's tenure, Arkansas has captured 11 conference championships and advanced to 68 post-season competitions, including the school's first Bowl Championship Series appearance in football, while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In 2011-12, Arkansas finished No. 20 in the Learfield Sports Directors Cup, a year-long competition ranking the nation's most successful intercollegiate athletic programs, the fourth time in the past five years the Razorbacks have finished in the nation's top 25.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks continue to set new standards including posting a student-athlete grade point average of 3.07 in 2011-12. It marked the fourth consecutive year Razorback student-athletes posted a GPA exceeding 3.0. Arkansas exceeds the national APR multi-year rate by more than 10 points in 18 sports and has seen a steady rise in graduation success rates.

Student-athlete development has also been a priority including the establishment of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the Southeastern Conference. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 5,000 hours of time for more than 100 agencies, organizations and schools.

One of the nation's most active athletic directors on Twitter, Long embraces the opportunity to interact with members of the Razorback Nation whether in person or through social media.

Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles and even before he officially took the reins on Jan. 1, 2008, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program. Long adeptly blended the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and established a new administrative structure.

Long has also worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium and partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a football series with Texas A&M played at the spectacular Cowboys Stadium.

Under Long's leadership, the program has fortified its financial standing ensuring more support for the development of student-athletes. According to the Wall Street Journal, Arkansas is one of only 22 self-sustaining Division

I-A athletic programs in the nation. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal with IMG College to form Razorback Sports Properties that guarantees the Razorback program $73 million during the course of the decade-long agreement. Long also negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season. In December 2011, Forbes Magazine estimated the value of the Razorback Football program at $89 million, eighth in the nation. Arkansas saw the largest increase (59%) from the previous rankings released in 2009.

In 2010, Long moved to help meet the growing financial needs of fielding a nationally competitive all sports program. The athletic department launched the "Answer the Call" campaign through the Razorback Foundation which resulted in more than 2,600 new members and helped generate more than $6.5 million in additional support for Razorback student-athletes.

With an eye towards the future, Long commissioned a comprehensive plan to assess the future facility needs of the program. Unveiled in October 2011, the Razorback Athletic Facilities Master Plan provided a vision and the road map for $320 million of facility renovations and additions that will help all 19 Razorback sports remain competitive in the Southeastern Conference and nationally over the next 30 years. The first major project from the master plan, the football center, is currently being constructed with a targeted completion date in 2013.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University, Eastern Kentucky University and Rice University. Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching staff positions at Duke University, University of Michigan and North Carolina State University.

His experience as an athletic director and administrator in five of the six Bowl Championship Series conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and SEC – gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long has served on the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association. Long currently serves on the NCAA Championships/Sports Management Cabinet.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign that raised nearly $34 million to enhance the student-athlete experience. During his tenure the Panthers' were selected as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years overseeing external affairs for the Sooners. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics working on head coach Tom Reed's staff as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

BEV LEWIS
ASSOCIATE VICE
ASSOCIATE AD

Bev Lewis has served the University of Arkansas and its Razorback athletic programs for more than three decades.

The former women's athletic director prior to the department merger in 2007-08, Lewis now serves as the associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas' 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing media relations. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning. Lewis was elected to the 2011-12 Southeastern Conference Executive Committee assisting the league office in a leadership role.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the university's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the university's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center. In 1998, she was voted into the University Of Arkansas Hall Of Honor.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and recently on the NCAA Management Council. Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981. The former Bev Rouse, is married to Harley Lewis.

MATT
SENIOR ASSOCIATE

Matt Trantham joined the University of Arkansas in 2008 as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations. He oversees Razorback facilities, event management and equipment operations.

Supervising several major projects in his first year with the Razorbacks, Trantham guided the $2.5 million renovation of Bud Walton Arena and the $1.3 million restoration of synthetic playing surface at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback stadium in 2008-09.

This year, he is overseeing the Master Plan currently underway for all athletic facilities. One of the first projects within the master plan began during the 2011-12 academic year with the expansion of the football practice facilities including meeting rooms, academic center and offices. Progress continues on those projects with the football center scheduled to open in the fall 2013.

Prior to joining Arkansas, Trantham began his career with the University of Oklahoma in July 1999 as the promotions director for the athletic department where he worked with all 20 of OU's teams. RAZORBACK SUPPORT SERVICES

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Recognizing the difficulty of balancing the demands of athletic competition at the highest level and completion of the rigorous academic standards of a Carnegie research-level university, the Razorback Athletic Department provides support services through both facilities and personnel to guide Arkansas student-athletes to their ultimate goal: University of Arkansas diploma.

The key components of the Center for Student-Athlete Success (CSAS) are personal development, career development, academic tutoring, study hall facilities, class attendance monitoring and incentive awards recognizing academic achievement.

BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Student-Athlete Development Office and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Academics and Student-Athlete Development Eric A. Wood oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab has more than 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student-athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

The mission of the Student-Athlete Development Office is to contribute to the personal growth and character development of Razorback student-athletes through holistic programming for success in life.

The Student-Athlete Development Office continues to expand its commitment to the offerings and opportunities in the following areas:

New for 2011-12 was the debut of the Hogspy awards, modeled after the ESPY's, to recognize academic and athletic achievements as well as leadership and community service.

COMPLIANCE

The University of Arkansas Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is proud to have your interest and support in the Razorbacks. The Razorback Athletics Compliance Office works hard to educate its student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters on the rules and regulations mandated by the Southeastern Conference and the NCAA.

SEC and NCAA rules and regulations can be complex, and every situation is different. The Razorback Compliance Office makes every effort to disseminate information, and they encourage student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters to contact them if there are questions.

The Razorback Athletics Department is proud of your support of the Razorbacks, but we caution you that inadvertent actions by our fans may jeopardize the department, current student-athletes or potential student-athletes.

MARKETING

The excitement and support of the University of Arkansas athletic teams is at an all-time high. Recently, single-game attendance records have been set for many sports including football, baseball, gymnastics, soccer and soccer. State-of-the-art facilities, the nation's best coaches and players and the greatest fans in college athletics come together for some of the most exciting events that take place in the state of Arkansas. The Razorback marketing staff is a big part of the behind-the-scenes success of all 19 teams at the university. They assist in the branding of our image, getting information to our fans and helping to fill our venues.

Their work is evident in our stadiums, on the videoboards and during pre-event, halftime and post-events. They work with sponsors, maintain the department's social media presence and welcome new fans with creative ticket and suite packages. The Razorback Marketing Office also handles the University's trademark licensing program ensuring fans get the Razorback quality they have come to expect.

SPIRIT SQUAD

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback Spirit Squad member has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two co-ed cheer squads - Arkansas Cheer and Razorback Cheer that inspire the crowds at all home and away football games, mens and womens basketball games, volleyball matches, gymnastics meets and many other pep rallies and on-campus and NWA community events.

Arkansas also has two dance teams, Arkansas Pom and Razorback Pom, that perform at all home football games, mens and womens basketball games as well as pep rallies and on-campus and community events. The squads also perform at baseball games as the RBI Girls.

Both the cheer and dance teams compete nationally at the Universal Cheer and Dance team competitions in Orlando in January.

Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s.
